DEATH OF JUDGE R. H. JONES.

Found Lying in His Office in Petersburg

FROST REPORTED ALL OVER THE STATE.

Yesterday Morning.

Great Damage to Fruits and Early Vegetables Feared-Virginia News from all Quarters.

PETERSBURG, VA., May 6 .- [Special.]-Judge R. H. Jones, a prominent lawyer of this city, was found dead in his office at an early hour this morning. He slept there last night, and this morning when the colored porter went to clean up the office he found the judge on a lounge dead, lying on his face. Death was caused from suffocation. Judge Jones was born in Dinwiddie county in the year 1837. He studied law under Pro. fessors Minor and Holcombe at the University of Virginia. He commenced the practice of law in 1857. He held the office of judge of Dinwiddie county for several years, having been elected by two successive Legislatures to that office. He was succeeded by Judge Shell. He was for some time president of the Bank of Petersburg and at one time was president of the Lower Appomattox river board. He served a term as a member of the Common Council of this city and was once a promi-He served a term as a member of the Common Council of this city and was once a prominent Mason, having been district deputy grand master of the State of Virginia. Judge Jones' wife died a few weeks ago. He leaves five children, all of whom reside here. They are: Dr. R. H. Jones, a prominent physician; Mr. Wm. H. Jones, a member of the Petersburg bar; Mr. Bennie Jones, bookkeeper at the National Bank of Petersburg; Mrs. Walter Revan and Miss Mary Esper Jones. Judge Jones has a brother who resides in Birmingham. Ala. STOCKS AND BONDS SOLD.

A PRETTY MARRIAGE.

Miss Lizzie Freeman Wedded to Edward Kimberly, of Norfolk.

FREDERICESBURG, VA., May 6 .- [Special.]-A large crowd assembled at the Baptist church to-night to witness the marriage of Miss Lizzie Freeman, of this city, to Mr. Edward Kimberly of Norfolk, Va. Mr. Kimberly is a leading offi-cial of the Seaboard and Roanoke railroad and cial of the Seaboard and Roanoke railroad and is a brother of the newly-appointed consulgeneral to Guatemala. Rev. T. S. Dunaway officiated and Miss Mary Quinn presided at the organ. The altar was beautifully decorated with growing flowers.

Many friends from a distance were here to witness the coremony. Messrs. W. L. Aniss, J. B. Colbert, W. H. Merchant, S. E. Eastburn, George and John Freeman, brothers of the bride, Robert Cox and S. G. Wallace, all of this city, acted as ushers.

THE EFFECT IN THE HILL CITY.

No Serions Damage was Done to the Fruit Crop-The Smithfield Outrage.

LYNCHBURG, VA., May 6 .- [Special.]-The cold snap yesterday brought a heavy frost this morning in all the surrounding counties. What damage has been done to the fruit crop is not yet known, but nothing serious is anticipated.

Mr. W. S. Buchanan, who was badly hurt several days ago at Franklin Junction by being struck over the head with a double-barrel gun in the hands of another party with whom he was fighting, has been brought to his home in this city, and is slowly recovering from his injuries, which were very severe and at one time rendered his condition serious.

FRUIT NOT DAMAGED.

The Frost Not so Heavy in the Southside-An Infant Found in the River.

DANVILLE, VA., May 6 .- [Special.]-There was considerable frost here last night, and vegetables in many instances were killed.

Little damage, if any, to the growing wheat and to fruit. It is again cold to-night, with prospects for slight frost.

One of the city hotels was to-night lighted with a new gas made from petroleum oil, and many people admired the beautiful light. This gas is made direct from the oil, the process being very simple, and it is remarkable. The body of a colored infant was fished out of the river this morning by a boy, and when examined it was found that the skull had been crushed. The child was killed very soon after it was born and the body thrown into the river. The case was investigated this afternoon by a coroner's jury, but no clue to the murderer was obtained.

Captain W. P. Robinson, who keeps as also on and grocery store on Main street, was arraigned before the mayor this morning on a charge of having violated the ordinance requiring saloons to close from 10 P. M., to 5 A. M. The saloon is in the reat of the store, and was closed up at 10 o'clock, but the store-room in front was kept open an hour later, as Robinson says he had a right to do. The mayor ruled that the ordinance had been violated, and imposed a fine of twenty dollars on Mr. Robinson. An appeal was taken to the Hustings Court, and Judge Aiken's decision will be awaited with much interest. be awaited with much interest.

DAMAGE IN SCOTT. A Severe Frost-Effect of the Dry Weather on the Crops-Court Proceedings. LOCUST LANE, VA., May 16 .- [Special.]-

One extreme generally follows another, and the long wet has been followed by a dry, and now a heavy frost last night has killed all of the fruit.

Farmers are not able to plow and plant as they wish. Some are compelled to wait for rain. Wheat looks well in this county and promises a good yield.

Owing to the absence of Judge Orr we had no court at the last term, and the celebrated murder case of the Commonwealth against Osborne and Griffith had to be continued. Judge Miller has allowed bail to one of the Osbornes on account of sickness. His physician said that he would die in confinement pending the trial.

Some white caps, ku klux, or what not threw down a house where Helen Ramey lived, near Dungannon, a few nights ago.
Captain J. H. Bickley, of Clinch, Va., I am glad to say, has nearly recovered from a severe attack of the grip.

John J. Alley, deputy collector, made a raid on some moonshiners a few miles from here last week. The birds had flown.

J. M. Hoge was recommended for county surveyor by the board of supervisors on last Saturday. They failed to recommend a superintendent for the poor, and the appointment will be made by the Court. Three candidates, with two votes each, resulted in a deadlock.

VEGETABLES DESTROYED.

Hffect of the Frost in Hanover-The New License Tax-Other News.

ASHLAND, VA., May 6 .- [Special.] -For three or four days past we have found fires very comfortable, and owing to the excessive dryness several very serous fires from foul chimneys have been "nipped in the bud."

chimneys have been "nipped in the bud."

On last night we were visited by a very heavy frost. Snaps, tomatoes, and, in fact, all the early vegetables suffered very much. In many exposed places it was as thick as a light snow. We very much fear the noted Hanover melon will be scarce this year.

Our new license tax for the town of Ashland went into effect on May 1st, and is creating right much excitement, as it increases the tax of our doctors and merchants.

Professor Edmond Harrison, of Richmond College, preached morning and night at the Baptist church Sunday and delivered two very fine sermons. Dr. Kern, of Randolph-Mecon College, conducted services at the Presbyterian church, and Rev. Mr. Young at the college chapel. Rev. Mr. Moore occupied his pulpit at the Christian church and Rev. Mr. Ambler at the Episcopal.

Our very popular agent at the depot, Major J. B. Hall, is so very unwell as to have to leave his post for a while.

Miss Gertie Simpson, of Richmond, is visiting her little friends, the Misses Nixon, for two weeks.

THE FROST IN CUMBERLAND.

All Vegetation and Fruit Killed-The Other Crops.

STODDERT, VA., May 6 .- [Special.] - A heavy frost last night was very destructive to all vegetation. Vegetables in gardens were killed. Mercury registered thirty-six degrees after 7 o'clock this morning. A steady north wind blew cold all day yesterday. Some ice was seen this morning.

wind blew cold all day yesterday. Some ice was seen this morning.

The dry weather has interfered greatly with all farming operations, and in some localities has destroyed tobacco plants. A small proportion of the corn crop has been planted at this writing. Those who have planted complain of dry rot.

Dr. James M. Blanton will be on the Richmond market next week with twenty cases of bright tobacco. The sale of this crop is looked forward to with much interest, as it is the largest crop raised in this section, and the only large crop sold on the Richmond market from this neighborhood.

ISLE OF WIGHT.

Cold Weather and Thick Ice-Serious Damage Done.

Windson, Va., May 6.-(Special.) - Last night was unsessenably cold here. The ground was white with frost this morning and toe a quarter of an inch thick was found. Melons to nation, maps and other like crops are alled outright, and positives and peas are considerably damaged. It is feared that fruit is seriously intered.

His Lala Seward of Petersburg, and Miss Myrtis McCrackin of New Orleans, spent several days recently with Miss Maggie Pileher, at Windsor Academy.

There are a quantity of peanuts in the country yet. Taylor & Parker, of this place, bought one thousand bags yesterday.

GRAPES INJURED.

A Heavy Frost Plays Havor With the Fruit and Vegetables in Albemarle.

CHARLOTTESVILLE, VA., May 6 .- [Special.]-It is thought by several reliable farmers of this section that the grapes were injured very much last night by the frost and that not more than half a crop will be made, and that vegetation has been injured, particularly on the low grounds.

It is said that the thermometer stood at thirty-one degress in some places this morning. It is feared that there will be another frost to night.

Yesterday morning several prominent members of the church (the clerk among the number) were before the mayor charged with turning off the gas and otherwise disturbing a church meeting on last Sunday night, at which the pastor was, by a majority vote, prohibited from preaching in this church again until an investigation of the recent ugly rumors as to his character was made. The mayor postponed the hearing of the case until he had opportunity to familiarize himself with the laws governing the church. Of course, the trial attracted a large crowd of negroes, some for, others against the pastor. The pastor of the church was absent when the meeting was held and is still absent on a collecting tour, endeavoring to secure the money to meet a payment now due on the new pipe organ.

Our regular county court met last Tuesday.
The only case of interest was between the liquor men and the temperance sentiment.
As has already been stated, the judge refused every applicant, and our town has been with-out bar-rooms for some days. Since that time-we have had better order and our streets are free of drunkards.

John Scales, who was found dead some time ago at Anglin's trestle, five miles below here, has been the topic of conversation among the negroes, and according to statements made several parties were arrested and tried to-day before Justices Howell and Witt, and all parties were dismissed. The trial caused a great many negroes to come to town.

The Stuart Enterprise is growing in favor every day.

The Moseley Rioters-Political Situation in the County_Frost.

POWHATAN COURTHOUSE, May 6 .- [Special] --The county court, still in session, has dispatched a lot of business. The cases of the Moseley Junction rioters were called Monday, Moseley Junction richers were cancer and and on that day and yesterday resulted in verdicts of guilty against all of the parties charged except one. The punishment ranged from six menths in the county jail to two years in the penitentiary.

The county political situation remains in statu quo, except the withdrawal of Hon. Thomas M. Meller as a candidate for attorney for the Commonwealth. This is announced in a card circulated last Monday. The result will be the election of William M. Flanigan for the fourth term. The present Sheriff, E. A. Baugh, and Treasurer Moses F.
